Did for a Lonely Man.

"A bachelor, you thought? By Jove!
I rather guess I was till then;
I rather guess I was till then;
I can play the deuce with single men.
You see we both lived—see and I—
Three stories high in Potter's flat;
Our coals got mixed and that is why
I got to know her and all that.
"I dropped a stovelid on my toe
And mashed it into royal jam;
I raved and swore—not very low—
And cussed and general times said, when;
I heard a little timid knock,
She came and boiled the kettle-quick
And pounded ice-you see the shock
Had kinder made me blind and sick.
"And whas she wens, by George, it seemed."

Had kinser made me blind and sick.

'And whom she wonk, by George, it seemed
As if sewershe field dropped down,
And not a ghost of sunlikelt gleamed
Ou me or all the duil old towns!
Istood it-well, about a weekAnd then I knocked upon herdoor;
Isid, as soon as I could speak,
'That stove is cutting up some morel'
'Ah, Tom, old fellow, married life
Is all that heaven has lent to earth;
Go marry-get yourself a wifeAnd have a shrine, a home, a hearth!
You can't afford it? Nonsense, man:
I thought so, too, and you will rue it;
Go—there's that new installment planAnd Mac will teach you how to do!t."

what is known as Bull Creek.

Late last night a man by the name of Grant arrived here from Taney City, in Taney County, to see Joe Inman and Charles Graves to give them warning not to return to their homes in Christian County. Inman and Graves were concerned in the Greene and Edens murder, and to save their necks they turned State's evidence. Both came here several days ago and were about returning when Grant reached here and told them that five men had already been lynehed and the mob was waiting for them. Grant knew nothing of the lynching himself, the information had been brought to him by one of Inman's relatives who did not stop to give particulars, but continued his flight towards Arkansas after begging Grant to warn Inman and Graves. Both men are still in the city, but will hazard a return to-night.

Dave Walker was the Chief of the Bald Knobbers, who for months made life a worthless burden for all who fell under their displeasure in Christian County. The Baid Knobbers were were originally vigilantes or bands of citizens of Christian and Taney Counties who combined to correct abuses then existing in their locatity in the Ozark Mountains. They afterward undertook to avenge personal wrongs, and so began a terrible career of crime. Men were taken from their beds at night and killed or brutally whipped. Women were beaten and the anthorities undertook to break up the gang. Prosecutions were instituted and vigorously carried through to convictions. Walker appealed from a verdict of murder in the first degree for the killing of the Green and Eden families to the Supreme Court, and on Monday last the Supreme Court affirmed the sentence and named December 22 as the day for his execution.

dignant citizens and neighbors of Mr. Stromberg were the "hounds" for the occasion. The "scent" along Ashiey street through Round Top Market areade was strewn with a nests of note paper and slabs of sketch-books. It appears from the developments of a pelice investigation made after the general indignation had subsided that yesterday two members of the Republic staff, detailed to bring in an installment of "dive" literature for the campaign against saloons wandered up to Ashiey street. At Third and Ashiey streets Mr. Stromberg's saloon is located. This was fixed upon for a sketch so enliven an article which the artist's companion proposed to write on the sileged dives and degradation of that section as soon as he could learn the names of the streets in the vicinity.

Accordingly the artist began the work of sketching the place, while the reporter kept a sharp lookout for any surprise that might interfere with their duties. The crowd in the saloon spied the two young men on the opposite side of the street and the attention of the proprietor was called to the matter. In an instant he divined the mission of the pair, who proposed to hold him up to public contempt, and he at once planned a movementby which to capture the enferprising journalists. The burly barkeeper was sent out the back way and, after making a circuit of half a block, came up in the rear of the sketchers, attempting thereby to cut off their retreat. The reporter was vigilant, and as the barkeeper approached he suspected that he and his partner were the game that was wanted, and he communicated his fears to the artist. The barkeeper though not so near as he desired to be before giving the alarm to the crowd in the saloon, made the best of the situation, threw up his hands and shouted to his triends to come ahead.

AST night the Ways and Means Commit-tee of the Democratic City Committee made of the Democratic directory held with closed doors at the were contracted for by the old committee. They gave $30 per ward for campaign meetings, an expenditure of $840. They paid a big printing bill and had $14,000 for distribution on election day, so at least Chairman Edmunds of the Ways and Means Committee gave out. This made the total expenditure more than the committee's assetted and preparations for the spring campaign meeting, as no balance of indebtedness was reported. The committee was not allowed to remain in doubt. The discrepancy of $71.55 was explained. Chairman Edmunds did not have planfed. Chairman E only had $248. His representations and doubts to how he should put up the doubts to how he should put up the $500 packages were intended for publication. Coming from Chairman Edmunds they were given publication as reliable, and the result was that the committeemen were besieged by the "workers," many of whom openly charged this committeemen with having "snak the simoleons," or in other words with having retained their money contributed by the candidates and intended for distribution among the "workers," Last night the understanding was entirely explained away. The Ways and Means Committee only distributed $8,605, and mot $14,000 for work on election day. This explained the remarkable showing of the finances.

The session was secret, and now that the committee has had the financial management of the campaign explained to the satisfaction of the members no further explanations are Austran, N. Y., November 18.—The cere-mony of unveiling the Seward statue took place to-day in the presence of a large con-course of people, including many distin-guished guests from out-of-town. The W. H. Seward Republican Club of New York came in a body. The pupile schools were closed for the day and several local military and civio the day and several local military and civio organizations attended in a body. The weather was unpropitious and the out-deer exercise, with this deception of the simple act of unveiling, were adjourned to the Operahouse. A commedious platform erected for the occasion secondodated a dense throng and at 11:20 the whole vicinity of the park where the status stands was black with a sea of umbrellas and people. Ex-Mayor Wheeler called the assemblage to order and at precisely 11:25 little Fannie Seward, daughter of Gen. Seward and Grand-daughter of the statesman, unveiled the status. A flag waved from a neighboring housetop was a signal for the firing of a salute of artillery and the ringing of the chimes of 5: Peter's. The adjournment of the asserties was then announced and the crowd disparsed, many of the distinguished research driving to fort Hill to view A BALL IN THE HEART. SUICIDE OF JACOB BLATTNER, THE AGED

A Wheelbarrow Bet.

Simon Haas, dry goods merchant on North Broadway, has a way of drawing audiences that he probably never dreamed of. At 8 o'clock last evening he successfully worked off a lost bet on Clevaland, by the wheelbarrow outs.

Most of the afterneon yesterday he spent in litting weights, and putting himself in dim, for the man, Henry Zimmerman, that e had to push in the wheelbarrow peed the scales at 200.

Most of the afternoon yesterday he spent in lifting weights, and putting himself in trim, for the man, Henry Zimmerman, that he had to push in the wheelbarrow tipped the scales at 200, while Hass is of slim physical construction. When Hass stopped to the task he looked very forlorn. Not a smile crossed his face. Sergt, Getty, with Officers Stunkel and Dennis, feund not a little difficulty in keeping Broadway open for traffic, as over one thousand five hundred people crowded and surged through the street to witness the ride. Promptly at 8 o'clock the start was made from the corner of Broadway and Salisbury street. The route was to Breman avenue and return, five blocks in all. Lawrence Kraeger, the giant butcher, headed the procession as marshal, his emblem being a representation of Grandpa Ben's hat. Then came a full brass band, followed by a torchight procession and then the wheeler. One inacription carried which was doubtless intended for Hass personally, read, "I thought I was right, but I was left;" another read, "Ferward to 1802," and still a third: "It is Cheerless to Look at Defeat, but Cheerful to Look at Victory Four Years Hence."

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. organ of the Provincial Government, and supposed to represent the French Canadian sen-timent in Canada, has made a decided sensation by publishing an article in which it points out the advantage of annexation over imperial federation, a possible contingency. It instances the annexation proclamation of 1849, giving the names of those who then sized it. They were Sir John Rose, financial agent of the Tory Government, in London; Sir A. A. Doran. Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Beach; Judge Torrance, Johnson & Mackay, and those princes of Montreal finance, the Molsons, Workman and Frothingham. It then argues that annexation would entail sourcely any change. The Provinces would retain their present limits; they would entail sourcely any change. The Provinces would retain their present limits; they would entail sourcely any change. The Provinces would retain their present limits; they would entail sourcely any change the territories, and the disproportion between them, and the disproportion already existing in the United States-Prince Edward Island becoming the Delaware of Canada. The Federal dabt of $500,000,000 would be a mere drop in the bucket at Washington. The militia would be reorganized on the economical plan of the other States and the army of customs officers would vanish.

Independence L'Electeur simply dismisses with the remark that the future is wrapped in too much uncertainty, and says that it is altocether too doubtful whether the Dominion would be strong enough to recover its independence or, having recovered it, to retain it. The article will probably begin a movement among the French for annexation to the States. The French for annexati

NEW YORK, November 16.—The Medical League Society some time ago appointed a committee of prominent physicians to devise the new law which orders the death sentenc doctors presented the report, the important part of which reads as follows:

"After mature deliberation we recommend that the death current be administered to the criminal in the following manner: A stout table covered with rubber cloth, having holes along the borders for binding, by a strong chair, should be procured, the prisoner, lying on his back or sixing, should be firmly bound upon this table or on the chair; one electrode should be so inserted into the table or into the back of the chair that it will infringe upon the spine between the shoulders; the head should be secured by means of a sort of helmet fastened to the table or back of the chair and to this helmet the other pole should be so joined as to press firmly with its end on the top of the head. We think a chair is preferable to a table. The sheophores can be led off to the dynamo through the floor or to another room and the instrument for closing the circuit can be attached to the wall. The electrode should be of metal not over one inch in diameter, somewhat ovidial in shape and covered with a thick layer of sponge or chamols skin. The poles and the skin and hair at the points of contact should be thoroughly wet with warm water. The hair should be cut short. Either a continuous of alternating current may be used, but preferably the latter. The current should be allowed to pass for thirty seconds."

It had been intended to have a discussion following the reading of the report, but on motion of Mr. Clark Bell, the President, the discussion was postponed until the December meeting, when it was announced Mr. Henry Guy Carleton would read a paper upon the subject. Last spring the society, through several of its members, offered three prizes for the best easays on subjects that the society was interested in. John H. ing the President's property upon their books. Though nothing has yet been done it can be stated that Oakview will be sold before next spring, and at a handsome profit on the original investment. Several gentlemen of means are just now paying attention to the property, and one of them will no doubt secure it when the President means are just and one of them will no doubt secure it when the President vacates, as he will do shortly after the 'inauguration of Gen. Harrison. The report has been current here that an agent of the Vanderbitz is now engaged in looking over Washington real estate with a view either of purchasing a house or a building site upon which to erect a residence. Rumor has it that this agent has made a trip to Oakview with the idea of buying it for his clients, but the story receives little credence, for the reason that the Vanderblits, if they really want a Washington house, are believed to desire a distinctively wrister residence, and not a suburban villa.

A good deal of curiosity has been expressed as to the value which the President sets upon his place. He has intimated that it will take at least $150,000 to buy it, and there is no doubt that it is worth every cent of that amount. This sum, however, represents quite 200 per cent profit on the original investment. The President paid $21,500 for Oakview when it was hardly more than an inclosure of unimproved suburban land. He is said to have spent nearly $30,000 in this work, and the property must, therefore, represent an outlay of at least $50,000. Since he purchased the estate, land northwest of the city has advanced in price with great rapidity, in some quarters doubling in value in a single year. A piece of property embracing nineteen acres, adjoining the President's place, but not so eligibly located, was purchased two years since by Gardner Hubbard for $20,000. He has since refused $100,000 for it. Land ali about Oakview is valued at from 20 to 30 cents a square foot, and the President's place, Grassiands, three years ago, for $30,000. It embraces thirty acres which, at 30 cents per square foot, would amount to nearly $400,000.

Secretary Whitney purchased his handsome place, Grassiands, three years ago, for $30,000. It embraces the two years ago, the sum of square foot, and the president's place, Grassiands, three years ago, for $30,000. It embraces to acres

Washington, D. C., November 15 .- Quietly and simply, in the presence of the bride's relatives and personal friends, a few of the members of Washington's official society, and of several hundred of the general public, Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and Miss Mary Endicott were married at 2 o'clock this afternoon in 8t. John's Episcopal Church. The church was absolutely without foral or other decorations, and the awning stratched across the sidewalk to the step was the only sign of any unusual ceremony. No cards or formal invitations had been issued, there were no best men or bridemaids, and the entire service was characterized by extreme simplicity. Such of the friends of the family as had been verbaily invited to attend took seats in the body of the church half an hour betore the ceremony began. The Cabinet meeting was ended at an early hour, so as to permit the members to be present at the service, and they were in most cases accompanied by their wives. The President and Mrs. Cleveland entered the church just before 2 o'clock, and were escorted to seats in one of the pews in the first row. Members of the Endleott family and relatives were seated immediately in the rear, while as many of the public as could find room in the little church filed the gallery and hallways.

Mr. Chamberlain entered the church at 3 o'clock and waited in the chancel. His appearance was the signal to the organist, who immediately began to play the wedding march from "Lohrengrin," and the bride, leaning on her father's arm, attired in a pearl gray traveling dress, and wearing a dark bonnet, passed up he right sisle, and joining the bridegroom, knelt before the altar. Hew. Dr. Leonard, assisted by Rev. Mr. Franks of Salem, Mass., performed the Episcopal wedding service. Both bride and groom cave back the responses in a firm and audible voice, prayer was pronounced and Joseph Chamberlain and Mary Endicort were man and wife. Again the organ pealed forth and to its strains the party, slowly passing along the left asile, out of the church and linto the carriages, were driven immediately to and simply, in the presence of the bride's rel-atives and personal friends, a few of the mem-

Harrison's New York Plurality.

The women were examined at the hospital and the physicians there could not be certain in its whit the trouble was. In fact, it was a very peculiar case, and not knowing the incident of the pork eating the young doctors did not think the sudden collapse was due to trichinæ poisoning. They said that the vomfiting and pains and final unconsciousness were not exactly the symptoms of this trouble. Indeed the fact that if amily of five should be taken so suddenly in the very peculiar manner described was a very hard fact to account for except on a theory of some kind of poisoning, but the hospital doctors said that while it was possible that trichinæ was the cause, the probability that such was true was very slight.

The physicians preferred to say that the violent symptoms of gripings in the stomach front at the mouth, vomiting and final collapse were caused by the bad air in the room and the general filthy condition of the surroundings.

Doubtless if the city had suspected that he would b the most unpopular candidate in the coun try, and if the country had suspected that he would be the most unpopular candidate in the city, his title would be Dennis instead of Gov. FRANCIS.

THERE is some speculation among in aginative people as to what CHAUNCEY I FILLEY will get from President-elect Haruson, and what position he will hold in the new Administration. We feel warranted in stating unofficially that Mr. FILLEY will get "left," and will hold the position of Secretary of the Exterior, with jurisdiction extending over all of the outside and an income equal to the value of his own personal exertions. While Mr. FILLEY captured the Republican State Convention he only captured Gen. ALgen's boodle at the National Convention, and disbursed it with the object of defeating Gen. HARRISON. Gen. HARRISON

THE total vote of Illinois was 748,496, divided as follows: HARRISON, 370, 427; CLEVELAND, 348, 302; FISK, 21, 441; STREETER 8,326. In 1884 the total was 672,849, divided as follows; BLAINE, 887,411; CLEVELAND, 812,584; St. JOHN, 12,005; BUTLER, 10,849. Of the increase of 75,647 votes, 41,500, or more than half, is in Chicago. CLEVELAND gets 35,718 more than he got four years ago, and HARRISON gets 33,016 more than BLAINE got. STREETER'S vote is about 2.500 less than BUTLER's was, and the Prohibition vote is 9,436 larger for Fish than it was for St. JOHN. One striking fact is that BLAINE's plurality was 9,000 in Cook County, where HARRISON's is less chiefly in the cities, the manufacturing centers. It was the farmers who got scared at free trade. HARRISON ran better than BLAINE in the rural districts and worse in the cities where the tin-bucket

HANNIBAL, November 15.—Wm. F. Paynter, whose parents residing here are highly respectable people, has been arrested on a charge of horse stealing at the request of the Sheriff of Frement County, Wyo., and Paynter, who recently brought a young wife with him from Wyoming, expisians the charge by saying that he was compelled to elope with the young lady, owing to her uncle's opposition, and that he borrowed a horse from a neighbor to help take them to Paris, Idaho, where he left the animal. It is learned from New London, Ralls County, that City Marshal R. D. Jones has been stabbed by James Butler while trying to arrest him.

did not seem to derive much enjoyment from the figures, and was very surjy when spoken to. He "didn't want to see anybody," he said, and he said it with a very vinegary accent. A search of the corridors failed to disclose any anxious delegations waiting on his pleasure for reception, and it seemed quite likely that he was to be left in the enjoyment of nuge chunks of sol itude. It was presumed Mr. Vest had come to attend the meeting of the Senate Committee appointed to investigate the healthfulness of the beef supply of the country. The committee consists of Senators Vest, Culiom, Plumb, Hoke and Manderson. Mr. Vess dehied that his visit had anything to do with the nied that his visit had anything to do with the "The question of meat and cattle inspec-tion," said Samuel K. Carson of Cheyenne, who is at the Lindell, "is one of growing im-portance and one requiring immediate and decided legislative action. Heretofore far too little prominence has been given to it, and that disastrous consequences have not fol-lowed is a matter of surprise to all who have paid any degree of attention to the matter. We of the Western States and Territories have long recognized the im-portance of bringing this subject to portance of bringing this subject to the attention of Congress and the several Legislatures, but most unfortunately internal dissensions among the stock-growers have prevented any effective steps from being taken. People in the East wonder why we do not act together, and seeing the divisions and quarrels that have arisen are inclined, not without color of reason, to believe that the dangers of the present unsystematic way of doing business have been greatly exaggerated. A giance over the field will prove that all cattlemen acknowledge and have long acknowledged the perils that have streatened alike the cattle interest and the sanitary state of the country, but local jealousles have proved stronger than common interest and the cattlemen, instead of acting in a body, have been divided into two hostile camps.

STOCK GROWERS FORMERLY DIVIDED.

"The division line may be placed at the Arkansas, the Northern men, headed by the Wyoming Cattle Association, having for years been endeavoring to establish a quarantine against the Texas stock, and the latter interest having been opposed to us in every move we made. The balance of power has been held by an interest opposed to both wings of the cattle-growers, the sheep men, and their infinence has been strong enough to prevent either party from secompilshing anything. There is no doubt in the world that proper inspection laws could have been passed had it not been for the work done by the woolmen. As a matter of business they are opposed to anything that will advance entite trade, as every agree from which steers are driven is so much added tall far less fatality such as the so afflicted has been the great aim and object of the Northern range men, while the Texans and New Mexicans have naturally been disinclined to have this point brought into undue prominence, unless the fact that the Northern cattle were peculiarly subject to cancerous affections were also extensively advertised, affections were also extensively advertised, affections were also extensively advertised, and steps were taken to open a permanent trail between the South and the North. This we were rather opposed to, and the difference of opinion on these points led to disputes and dissensions that caused the flasco of the first convention held in this city. But now matters are on a different footing. The Texas drive is a thing of the past, and the peculiar curse of the Northern ranges, cancer, has made its appearance with almost equal strength on the Southern ranges, while in the dressed beef monopoly has arisen an enemy threatening alike to both interests. The sheepmen have diminished in numbers, their flocks are no longer crowding upon the cattle ranges, and they are ready to make common cause with us. We will therefore be able for the first time to set in concert, the Legiswill be lecated, if it is built, is uncertain. If the new High School had been put up it would, no doubt, have been only a short time before the present High School was torn down and a new building streated there, but the new High School is a very uncertain thing.

The Librarian of the Fublic Library, was asked this morning if new rooms were much needed for the Library?

"Yes," he said. "In the first place we cought to have a fire-proof building for these books. You can replace a stock of dry goods if they are burned, but never such a library as this. But the most necessary thing is room. All our floor space is taken up with cases and there is not room to properly arrange the books. In the galleries we have had to put shelves over the windows and between the cases, from one to the other to hold the books, and we have already encroached upon the reading-room. There are several large cases in one corner of the reading-room, and one entire wall is devoted to book shelves. I am going to put some more cases in next week and after that I don't know what I shall do, unless I just put them in the middle of the room and let those who want to read sit wherever they can find a place."

PRESIDENT JUDSON

said: "Idon't think the matter is in such shape that we dan say we are contemplating building, but the committee will be appointed simply to look into the matter and see what can be done and what is advisable to do."

as revealed by Mrs. Voorhis, and which, it is tion. He replied: "Yes, and I regard it as sensational—very sensational. I don't want to say anything about the Alaska business. It's a dirty pool which you'd best not disturb. My son was there and he was very glad to get away. The place was for a long time entirely under the control of the missionaries. Mr. Jackson was really the chief power in Alaska. I don't know whether he is there now or not, but he had control of everything and dispensed the Government moneys. But, really all I know is hearsay evidence. I was never there in my life."

Gen. Sherman was found in his sunshiny of fice in the basement of his new uptown house. He said he had not seen the story in question, but when it was handed to him he perused it carefully.

For So Few Dollars.

If you want endless service for little money, ask to see the $10 Black Cheviot Suit. You've heard your grandfather say how much better goods wore in his day. Well, it's not the same style, but it's made on original principles. Wool from neighboring farmers-water-power mill.

We never sold this Suit before for less than $12-it's worth more than that.

It's harvest time for Overcoat buyers. We're ready, with prices cut way down. Twenty-seven years' buying overcoatings has taught us how to avoid goods that are not what they seem. You want the weight in wool-not flocking or shoddy. If blue, an Indigo.

You've two pleasures in wearing our Clothing.

Pleasure in its long service.

Pleasure in its substantial and handsome appearance, with the protection we offer on the money you leave with us. We've reached the "acme" of trading.

We're losing money on the present prices.

A correspondent accompanying the Australian party thus describes the play: The ball looked like a mere speck from the grand stand, and how Hanlon ever judged it against the dazzling blue of that unbroken say is marvelous, but he did it in a style that set the crowd well nigh crazy. Like a race horse he tore across the field toward the fence in the distance. Once he looked up, and then tore on again, faster than ever. The ball could now scarcely be seen from the grand stand, but the spectators did see the center-fielder turn, run backward for five yards, throw both hands upward and fall to the earth upon his back. His right hand was extended upward as he lay upon the field, however, and in it was clutched the ball. How that crowd of 4,000 people howled. Hats, cames and handkerchiefs were waved in wild enthusiasm, ladies applauded with a vigor that must have split more than one pair of dainty gloves, and men high-yaned and whooped until they grew red in the face. The applause continued until Hanlon had come in from the field, and increased when Ned modestly lifted his cap and walked to his bench. It was certainly a great catch and well deserved the applause it got.

Base Ball Chat.

Slattery of the New Yorks is to be tendered a banquet by his South Boston friends.

Manager Mutrie is passing a subscription sround for the benefit of Buck Ewing. Barney Brogan headed the list with a check for $25.

The Athletic Club will probably sign Gieason, Lyons and Weyhing during the meeting of the American Association here on December 11. There is a good deal of talk about Brooklyn coining the League. Put a pin in this: Brooklyn will play in the Association in 1889 unless the Association goes to pieces.—[New York Press.

and I know we have both," said the genial, red-faced short-stop.—[Philadelphia Press.

Base ball in the old days required sprinting abilities and endurance of no mean order. In a game between the Niagaras and Columbias at Buffalo in 1869 the score at the end of the nintin inning stood: Niagaras, 209; Columbias, 10. The largest number of runs made by any one player was 30. The ground covered in making these 30 runs was something like half a mile, and the total distance covered by the team was over fourteen miles.

Sam Barkley, the former second baseman of the local club, was in the city yesterday visiting friends. He was looking extremely well. During a conversation he said that he does not know whether or not he will play with Kansas City next year. "I don't know that they want me," he said. He declined to talk about the alleged trouble between him and any other player in the Kansas City Club. He will likely go to Louisville.—[Pittsburg Dispatch.

Mr. Harry Vonderhorst is authority for the statement that there will be a club in Baltimore next season, and that it will belong to the American Association. Said he: "There is no truth in the statements made in various papers that our club is dead. We will show the people a team next season as strong as any in the Association. It will be a decided improvement on that of last season," Mr. Vonderhorst is pecuniarily interested in the club, and is therefore competent to pass an opinion. Manager Barnie is now on the road acting as treasurer for a theatrical company.

those people are only making a bluff, and a blamed poor one at that. Why don't they say I never was near their bridge? That would be simpler. They're sore; that's what the matter. They're sore to think I got onto their bridge in spite of all the watching they did to keep me off. There is a ladder at the place I climbed up. The college foot ball games this season will probably decide whether a kicking or a rushing game will be the American foot ball game, of the future. The game of old was a roughound and alturble affair that was dangerous to limb and thurble affair that was dangerous to limb and life. Many of the rough features have and life. Many of the rough features have been cast out and the rules have changed, improved and altered. Even as it is, it requires a stordy young glant, with the physique of an ox, to be a wonderful rusher. I hast year Princeton played both a kicking and a rushing game and lost at both. Harvard played a rush game, and won by it to 6, while I ale played a kick-
